

For Freedom Christ Has Set Us Free
Walk in the Spirit
Galatians 5:16-18

In economic theory, competition is supposed to provide the best product at the best value. It is supposed to provide the highest quality worker at the most reasonable price. Competition is necessary in a society that seeks innovation and prosperity. But competition is brutal and we see the negative effects of it in our businesses, in our personal lives, and even in our churches.

1. We walk in the Spirit...

2. We walk in the Spirit...

3. We walk in the Spirit...

It is our innate desire to want the most beautiful, pleasurable, and satisfying things in life. The desire itself isn't evil. We were created with it. Prior to the gospel we are subject to the lusts of the flesh, thinking that the satisfaction and pleasure from the world is as good as it gets. But with the gospel, we get the beauty of the Creator and realize that everything created is just a means to His glory.
