

Identity: A Life of Faith
Life at Work
Colossians 3:22-4:1

“What do you want to be when you grow up?” It is a question all of us were asked as kids. Think about how that question is phrased. We mean it to ask what career do they want to pursue what they want to do, yet we ask the question in terms of what they want to be. It is easy for our identity to get wrapped up in what we do, but is that really who we are?

1. We do our work with _____
 - A. God takes our work _____
 - B. Pretending is _____
 - C. Pretending hurts our _____
2. We do our work _____ for Christ
 - A. We are motivated by a _____ for Christ
 - B. We are motivated by Christ’s _____
 - C. We are motivated by Christ’s _____
3. We do our work with _____ in mind
 - A. We supervise _____
 - B. We supervise _____

There are many of us who still don’t know what we want to “be” when we grow up. But all of us will need to work even as we seek our dreams. Therefore, all of us have the opportunity to reflect Christ and the values of His kingdom in the work we do.
