

Jesus' Most Confounding Statements
Exploit Your Friends
Luke 16:1-2

Shrewdness doesn't sound like a positive quality in the Christian life, but Jesus challenged His followers with a story of shrewdness. What would happen if we exploited our resources in order to grow the kingdom?

Believers are to be wise with _____ and _____.

1. We will give an account of our _____.
2. We will give an account of our _____.
3. We will give an account of our _____.

Jesus told His followers that the manifestation of common sense and prudence is a test of faithfulness. We are to act at all times as under a responsibility to a divine Master in the little things as well as the greater, both in temporal affairs and in regard to spiritual giftedness. Then, in eternity, those who benefitted from our ministry and our money will form our joy and crown of rejoicing.
