

Prepare Him Room
Let Christ into Your Life
Luke 2:8-20

For many people Christmas is overwhelming. Christmas events are added to already busy schedules. The expectation of gift-giving is added to an already stressed checkbook. Rooms in houses are rearranged for various decorations and some neighbors seem to be in competition with outside decorations. We can become overwhelmed by the expectations of the holiday.

1. The announcement of a Savior _____ our world.
2. The announcement of a Savior _____ our obedience.
3. The announcement of a Savior _____ our mission.

Believers do not have to be overwhelmed by the busyness of the holiday, but we should be overwhelmed by the holiness of it. We get to be like the shepherds, telling the story of Jesus by praising Him as we interact with our social spheres every day. Christmas reminds us to let Christ into every aspect of our lives.
